You are free to download, copy, translate or adapt this story and use the illustrations as long as you attribute in the following way:

Anina makes lemonade juice

Author - Hafsat musa
Illustration - Hafsat musa and Eniola Olurinola
Language - English
Level - Longer paragraphs

© African Storybook Initiative 2024 Creative Commons: Attribution 4.0 Source www.africanstorybook.org

Anina makes lemonade juice Hafsat musa Hafsat musa

From that day, Anina's mother always ensured Anina stayed in the kitchen with her whenever she cooked.

Anina grew up to be a famous chef.

One sunny day, Anina's grandparents visited. Anina decided to make lemonade juice and pies.

She managed to make the pies, but she did not know how to make lemonade juice.

"I will make it my own way," she decided.

Anina brought some ginger, lemon, sugar and turmeric.

She blended them all and added some orange flavour.

Anina's mother wondered how she learnt how to make lemonade juice. She asked her, "Who taught you how to make this juice?"

"I learnt if from a cookery book I found in the school library," Anina replied

She took the juice to her mother who drank and said, "This juice is so yummy, Anina."

She served her grandparents the pies she had made. She also served them the lemonade juice from the fridge.

When her grandparents tasted the lemonade, they exclaimed, "Wow! This is tasty, Anina."

"Thank you," Anina replied shyly.

Aning thought to herself, "I could do better."

The next day Anina went to the school library. She found the recipe on how to make lemonade juice.

She followed all the steps and used right measurements for the ingredients. Anina made better lemonade juice.

She took it to her grandparents. They drank it and said, "This is so sweet, Anina! How did you do it?"

Anina was so happy.